

Become a Licensed Delivery Partner

British Weight Lifting's (BWL) industry leading courses are the go to choice for learning how to coach weightlifting and strength training. The content of our courses has been developed by the best in the business, with knowledge built up and adapted from the experts in weightlifting and strength and conditioning. We are always on the lookout for new training providers to act as a Licensed Delivery Partner to deliver courses on our behalf.

What is a British Weight Lifting Licensed Delivery Partner (LDP)?

A British Weight Lifting LDP is an educational provider that is able to deliver official British Weight Lifting courses. For example, we work with the Armed Forces, Schools, Universities, Colleges, Prison Services and Private Training Providers who use the content we have developed to deliver courses on our behalf.

What are the benefits of becoming an LDP?

By becoming an LDP you'll be able to take advantage of a host of benefits. BWL will assist you with the application process, and work with you to train and develop your staff while providing continual support:

- Guidance on structuring courses for optimal delivery
- Full delivery notes provided
- Options to work with BWL on bespoke content for courses
- A mixture of online and practical delivery methods available
- Delivery notes are able to be personalised to you
- Grading completed by BWL

- Marketing support to promote your courses
- Templates for social media provided
- Promotion on social media
- Opportunities to feature in member newsletter
- Exposure on website

- Training from Education Team
- Frequent upskilling and access to BWL CPD courses
- Exclusive Tutor Training from BWL
- Right to refer as a BWL Licensed Delivery Partner
- BWL logo provided

- Fully accredited qualification and courses available
- Education team at BWL here to support you
- Flexibility of booking dates to suit you
- Deliver BWL courses internally to students
- Promote courses externally & deliver to the public
- Save money for students
- Income generator
- Access the educator training section on e-learning
- Receive support from BWL to upskill your workforce
- Register new courses and market them online.

Benefits of embedding:

- Students can gain an additional qualification without duplicating work
- All grading completed by BWL for your students on any work required for gaps
- Students leave Education with industry certificate complimenting qualifications

“The University of Wolverhampton has been a British Weight Lifting Satellite Education Centre (previous name for LDPs) for several years, and we have been able to offer students opportunities to complete a range of BWL qualifications alongside their degree programmes, including embedding awards within the academic curriculum.

BWL has allowed us to continue to provide students with opportunities to gain vocational qualifications during a period in which we have been limited to online-only learning. The online courses are excellent and our students at all levels have benefited greatly from their inclusion in our employability-focussed modules.”

Mark Niemz, Senior Lecturer in Strength & Conditioning

Does your venue tick all the boxes?

To ensure that all of our courses offer the best learning environment and experience possible, we have an application and verification process in place. Our application process will require you to complete:

- BWL Application form
- BWL Policies and Procedures form

We welcome applications from a wide range of training and educational providers.

If you are already an education establishment such as a school, college or university, we can work with you to add our courses into your current programmes to support suitable courses/degrees. For further information on how this can work please contact the team.

Why work with BWL?

As the National Governing Body for weightlifting and para powerlifting, our courses offer an unrivalled standard of training. We are proud to work in partnership with the regulated awarding body Focus Awards to accredit our qualifications and have been recognised as a leading educational provider in the UK.

Our achievements include:

- Winner of the UK active award – Learning and Development Supplier of the Year 2018
- Winner of the UK Coaching award – Coaching Culture of the Year 2017

What do I need to become an LDP?

As a minimum, all tutors at your LDP will need a British Weight Lifting Level 2 coaching qualification (don't worry if you don't have this yet, we can work with you to gain this qualification). All tutors will need a teaching qualification and your IQA will need an Internal Quality Assurance qualification.

Become a Licensed Delivery Partner

What is the process?

1. Please email courses@britishweightlifting.com or call BWL on 01132 249 402 to express interest in becoming an LDP.
2. Start the online application process (BWL will add you to this).
3. The application is then reviewed by BWL's Education Team.
4. If approved, the Education Team will confirm if upskilling to the correct BWL qualification is needed and will organise this with you.
5. If the application is not approved, we will work with you to become a course host venue which offers a range of options.
6. Once you have completed your upskilling courses (if necessary) you will then need to complete BWL's tutor training.
7. Once you have completed BWL's tutor training we will then create and send an LDP agreement.
